Celebrating My Sister's Birthday

My sister celebrated her 8th birthday party last Saturday. At the party, (nobody , anybody , everybody) wore red shirts because red is my sister's favorite color. This made my sister very happy.

We started the party with (anybody , everybody , nobody) singing the "Happy Birthday" song to my sister. Then, my mom asked, "(Nobody , Anybody , Somebody) special will be singing for us today. Can anyone guess who that is?" (Somebody , Everybody , Anybody) looked around to see who it could be but (everybody , nobody , anybody) could guess.

So then I went to the front and told (anybody , somebody , evrybody), "It's me! I am going to sing a song for my sister. (Somebody , Nobody , Anybody) who knows the song can join me in singing."

After the party, my sister gave me a hug and thanked me for making her party a special one.
